

YAMHILL COUNTY HISTORICAL SOCIETY

YAMHILL COUNTY HISTORICAL SOCIETY MEETING

DATE: TUESDAY FEBRUARY 8, 1983 12:00 NOON
LOCATION: Amity United Methodist Church, Amity, Oregon
POTLUCK: Bring your own service
PROGRAM: History of the Amity area.

MUSEUM NEWS

We have been busy with the sale of our new book, Schools of Old Yamhill. These books are on sale at various locations around the county. We also have a few Old Yamhill books left too.

There have been few visitors during the fog we have had. No one likes to drive. We did have a visitor from Cove, Oregon who complimented us on how well we arranged rooms.

Our meeting in January in Lafayette was well attended and Kollene Williams gave a good review of her childhood days at school. Her parents and grandparents had been in the Lafayette area many years. They were pioneers of the early day.

If you haven't purchased your book on the schools yet, be sure to do so. More Oregon History needs to be brought to the children as well as teachers from out of state. They are very good history lessons.

Be sure to call if you or your club would like an appointment to visit the museum. Otherwise, we are open weekends from 1:00 to 4:30 p.m..

HISTORY NOTES

Thanks to Helen Webb, one of the unidentified school pictures in "Schools of Old Yamhill" has been identified. She wrote: "Bert (Elbert) Perkins was one of the teachers at Stag Hollow, when my mother and some of the other Robisons attended there. I believe that the picture near the front of the book is the back of Stag Hollow school. My mother would have been about eleven. Some of the others are likely Blackburn, Busby, and Stoddard children." The picture that Helen is referring to is on page 1. A comparison with the picture of Stag Hollow school on page 25 bears out what Helen tells us.

Helen has also corrected the identification of the 1927 picture on page 23. It should read: FRONT: Annabell Callahan, Elva Galloway, Mildred Laughlin, Paul Ritches, Helen Walter, G.W. Brown, principal and teacher. BACK: Phillip Bent, Lorence Marquis, Johnny Callahan, Tom Burton, Harold Campbell, Edgar Greenhoot.

We appreciate Helen's information and would welcome additions and corrections from anyone.

Does anyone recognize the school on the cover of "Schools of Old Yamhill?" Supposedly, it is a school in Yamhill County.
